TWENTY CENTS

DESPERATE: This 2-year-old cat is in need of a home like the nearly 60 animals at the APA shelter.

APA shelter to be closed

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Lack of money and volunteers is forcing the closing of the only private animal shelter in the city.

Members of the Association for the Protection of Animals voted Monday to close their animal adoption shelter at 5000 Old Alton Road and not to accept any further animals. The shelter will stay open until homes can be found for the remaining animals.

"I hate to see it, really," said AFA Treasurer Thelma Mitchell, "but, I have to admit, it's the only thing we can do."

Expenses to maintain the facility and care for the animals total up to $2,000 a month, Mitchell said. The group has approximately $4,000 in the bank, she said. The state-regulated facility receives no state, county or city funding.

"We're spending far more than we're taking in," Mitchell said. Members will maintain the building, continue to meet monthly and raise money to possibly reopen. One fund raising idea, discussed at Monday's meeting, is a letter campaign soliciting donations.

Margaret Fisk, adoption supervisor, said there was little public response to a story concerning the APA's problems that appeared recently in the Press-Record and on Channel 2.

Fisk doesn't know how long it will take to place the 18 dogs and 40 cats at the shelter into homes, she said.

"I just don't want to see them destroyed," Fisk said.

Abandoned dogs and cats will now go to the Madison County Rabies Control, where animals are killed each Thursday, she said. The APA doesn't destroy animals, except for medical reasons.

More than 60 animals have been placed in homes since the Old Alton Road facility opened in June 1984. Adoption hours are from 4-7 p.m. Fridays and 1-4 p.m. Saturdays. The phone number at the shelter is 931-7030.

Reviews and previews

Mansfield wants disclosures

Democratic congressional candidate Mike Mansfield said last week he wanted his opponents to fully disclose personal financial information, but Mansfield was not on the record at the time as filing a 1987 personal financial statement with the federal government. Mansfield, who has since filed an updated statement, said the disclosure law was unclear. "People should know income, property holdings, business associations and associates (of candidates)," Mansfield said.

County chairman challenge loses

Petitions to change the duties and manner of electing the Madison County Board chairman were ruled invalid last week. Out of 500 needed signatures, 491 were accepted by Chief Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill. As a result, the referendum will not be on the March 15 ballot.

'Great Debate' set Feb. 3

The Granite City Press-Record/Journal has announced that Don Eling, group publisher for the Illinois Suburban Journals, will serve as moderator for the "The Great Congressional Debate" to be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Feb. 3 at the Granite City High School auditorium, 3100 Madison Ave.

Harry Bogosian, of Lincoln Place and of Armenian extraction, was awarded $550 by a city court jury for being slandered. Bogosian was apparently called a variety of unflattering names in the Armenian language by another Armenian who was testifying in a previous trial involving Bogosian.

Quote of the week

"A lot of effort went into the study of closing Louis Baer School," said Dan Kostencki, District 12 superintendent, about the planned mid-1988 closing of the Madison elementary school that serves 161 students. "We feel it's something that has to be done."

B.J. Davis

Unity goal

B.J. Davis, newly appointed interim chancellor of Belleville Area College and former District 9 superintendent, said he wants to restore unity among trustees and to bring spending in line with revenues. Davis said he expects a balanced budget by the end of the year. "He has the right personality," District 9 Superintendent Gib Walmsley said. "He cares about people, especially students." Davis has no plans to seek the job permanently.

Library to hire lawyer for bankruptcy case

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — An out-of-state attorney will be hired to help represent the Granite City Public Library in bankruptcy proceedings in Maryland.

The library's Board of Trustees authorized the board's attorney, Brian Konzen, to retain a Maryland attorney for a fee not to exceed $2,500.

Porta-Structure Inc., the main contractor for the unfinished branch library building at 2145 Johnson Road, declared bankruptcy in Maryland. The company owes a number of contractors, some local, for work the contractors have done on the branch library. It is estimated the creditors are owed about $150,000.

The library owes Porta-Structure, which was the lone bidder for the building, about $190,000 and has paid the company about $353,000, according to library officials. The officials have said they will not pay the company any more or accept the building until the work is finished.

The library board passed a resolution at its December meeting instructing Library Director Robert Stack not to accept keys to the building from Porta Structure because such an action might constitute legally accepting the building, despite the building not being completed.

A Maryland attorney will assist Konzen in representing the library in the Maryland bankruptcy proceedings.

Board honors Dr. King

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — In observance of the birthday of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a proclamation was read Sunday by School Board President Wilbert Glasper at Martin Luther King memorial services at New Salem Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St.

The proclamation issued by the board read: "In recognition of the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the Venice Board of Education hereby proclaims its support of the ideals and principles for which Dr. King stood, and for the legacy which he left behind for all Americans."

"Through his vision and tireless efforts, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. shocked and changed the social consciousness of this nation and gained worldwide recognition, respect and influence."

"The Venice Board of Education believes that this holiday in honor of Dr. King can help to inspire the youth of America with the courageous examples that were set by America's Drum Major for Justice."

"It shall be a goal of the Venice School District to keep his dreams alive by insuring that annual commemorative activities are conducted in the schools and that district students are taught the principles for which he sacrificed his life."

In remembrance

OLD AND YOUNG ALIKE participate in a march through Venice on Sunday afternoon in remembrance of the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Leading the march are the Rev. Harold Wilson, an associate pastor at Trinity God in Christ Church in Venice, and Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols. Also in the lead was the Rev. John Henry Williams, not in photo, pastor of the New Salem Baptist Church in Venice where the march ended and a program was held. The civil rights leader's birthday was observed nationally Monday.

Fire fatal to man, 29

GRANITE CITY — A mobile home fire of undetermined origin caused the death of a 29-year-old man Sunday.

Steven D. Smothers died of smoke inhalation at his home at 2514 W. 24th St.

Granite City firemen responded to the blaze at 12:55 a.m. Jan. 17. Mr. Smothers was found in a kneeling position in a check bedroom between a bed and a wall, according to a Granite City police report.

Madison County Deputy Coroner Ed Werner pronounced him dead at 2 a.m.

Granite City Police Chief Bob Astorian said Monday there was no suspicion of foul play and the death has been listed as accidental, though the cause of the fire is still being investigated.

The mobile home sustained heavy damage. Mr. Smothers' wife, Margaret, and two children were not at the home at the time of the fire.

An obituary notice is given elsewhere in this issue.

Church given zoning request

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Church property on Johnson Road will be rezoned for commercial use if the City Council accepts a recommendation by the City Planning Commission.

The commission on Thursday voted 5-2 to rezone Johnson Road Baptist Church property, 2029 Johnson Road, from residential to commercial despite opposition from a neighborhood group.

Sandy Critch, leader of the Clark-Mercer Neighborhood Federation, spoke in opposition to the rezoning.

The neighborhood federation fears the zoning change would eventually open the area for commercial expansion if the church decided to sell the property. The group's attorney, Leon Scroggins, has said the church does not need a commercial designation to build an addition.

The church has maintained that the property should have a commercial designation because the property has commercial value and it is easier for the church to get a commercial bank loan if the property is zoned for commercial use.

The church had said the property was zoned for commercial use before the 1981 city zoning law went into effect. But the property is listed as residential on the city's zoning map and the zoning office has no record of the church's claim.

Voting against the rezoning were commissioners Sandy Shaw and Joe Ribbing. Voting for the rezoning were chairman Phillip Theis, Don Tanase, Roger Miller, Andy Gitchoff and Rick Dickerson. Commission members Charles Palus and Ed Reinagel were absent.

Venice school programs to be monitored

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — Federal and state programs being conducted in School District 3 will be monitored Tuesday, Jan. 19, by the Illinois State Board of Education.

"They will be monitoring what we do in the classroom and financial aspects of the programs," said Superintendent of Schools Charles J. McCaskill, who told school board members of the pending visit at Thursday night's board meeting.

At one time, such programs were monitored on an individual basis, but a total of eight federal and state programs are to be reviewed Tuesday, he said.

The three-man monitoring team will be headed by Regional Superintendent of Schools Harry Briggs Jr.

Team members were designated by the State Board of Education.

An orientation meeting with school administrators, plus an exit conference, also were planned for Tuesday.

Areas scheduled for review were the Chapter 1 and II classes, Title I, kindergarten through 6th grade reading improvement classes, and programs being conducted under the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act.

Reimbursement programs for gifted education, summer school remedial classes and staff development will also be monitored.

The board also authorized attendance at workshops by two faculty members. Lena Rush will take part in a March 3 early childhood conference in St. Louis and Dagmar Davis will make a presentation at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale on March 4.

Senator misleading us on spending

Paul Harvey News
By Paul Harvey
S.A. Times Syndicate

The cloak of congressional impunity is proper protection for lawmakers if only because otherwise they'd all be spending most of their time defending themselves in court.

But frequently we of the media hear on the floor or read in the Congressional Record utterances by lawmakers which are indefensible.

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., seeking for whatever purpose to disprove former presidents, has turned the truth inside out.

Chiles, referring to what he calls "the imperial former presidency," alleges that tax dollars are being used to help former presidents become wealthy.

He says the upkeep of former presidents is going to cost us $27.6 million next year.

If Chiles has any evidence of misuse of public money he should have included that evidence.

One former president, Richard Nixon, by assuming many of his own expenses, is actually saving taxpayer dollars.

Nixon could be earning half a million dollars a year just on speeches. The fact is, according to his office, he has not received any pay for any speech he has made over the past 25 years.

He has been invited to sit on numerous corporate boards, each offering a handsome annual fee plus expenses. He has accepted no such offers.

Most of what you pay former presidents is for their protection.

President and Mrs. Nixon in August 1965 gave up their Secret Service protection and now pay for their security out of their own funds.

This saves you $3 million a year.

Incidentally, without Secret Service protection — with only privately funded security — Nixon has traveled abroad three times, including an 11-month round-the-world trip in 1955.

At professional football and baseball games he most often sits in the stands, rather than in VIP boxes.

He eats in fast-food restaurants without escort, dines frequently with Mrs. Nixon in Manhattan restaurants — entirely without incident.

All expenses of researching and editing his five books, Nixon has paid out of his own pocket. The computers and word processors in his home and office he bought with his money.

Nixon's five-room birthplace — and his planned Nixon Library at Yorba Linda, Calif. — are to be operated as private nonprofit historical sites. No government money will go into either.

History, in proper perspective, is the most useful sextant we have for navigating from yesterday to tomorrow.

One senator, misleading, can give us a bum steer.

Does St. Clair care?

To the editor:
The most interesting thing to me about Pete Fields' charges of vote fraud in East St. Louis is that no one from St. Clair County is even bothering to deny it.

Does this mean Costello, et al. are willing to accept the situation? Or, does it imply, at least, that they don't mind it at all?

It's a sad day when the auditor of Madison County cares more about the people of St. Clair County than the elected officials there do.

Let me correct that: it's a sad day for St. Clair County. As for Fields, I'm proud of him.

Rural man praises Fields

To the editor:
As a rural resident of an outlying county in the 21st Congressional District, I must applaud Pete Fields, congressional candidate, for his courageous expose of vote fraud in East St. Louis.

For too many years, our valid rural vote has been neutralized by East St. Louis.

Fields' action is a step toward more representative government in the 21st District and away from special interests and machine politics which benefit a fortunate few.

Pontoon issues business licenses

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — A service station and an income tax preparation service were granted business licenses by the Board of Trustees Jan. 12.

Dop Faulk, Fairview Heights, will operate Pontoon Shell Service at 4160 Pontoon Road, formerly Pontoon Mobil. He also operates a Shell station at Illinois 157 and Interstate 64.

In his application to the board, Faulk said he also is considering opening a convenience shop at the same Pontoon location at a later time and possibly a liquor store at some future date. Approval for the service station operation only was given with issuance of the business license. Mayor Glen Wilson said, Michael Presson, 3801 Lake Drive, was issued a license to operate an income tax preparation service at 4087 rear Pontoon Road. The location is at the rear of A and J Market, trustees said. No action was taken on a license application from Gene Payne of Gene's Auto Body, 4055 Pontoon Road, and Leonard White, 2605 Mockingbird Lane, who are partners in a towing business.

The application said calls requesting towing will be taken at Gene's Auto Body during daytime hours and at White's telephone number at night.

White operates Len's Amoco Service Station at Franklin Avenue and Pontoon Road, Granite City. It was asked at an earlier meeting and again Tuesday night where the tow trucks will be located and where any towed vehicles will be stored.

"I don't see that it's feasible to put wrecked cars in downtown Pontoon Beach," said Trustee Louis Whitsell. "If he is going to run the business out of there (Gene's Auto Body) I see nothing wrong with it," said Trustee Bob Abel, who owns and operates Abel's Auto Body in Granite City.

"I tow in Granite City but my wrecker might be in Granite City or somewhere else," Abel said.

Property within the city limits of Granite City on which towed vehicles are stored must be fenced, he said, noting that Gene's Auto Body has a fenced-in area.

Abel made a motion to accept the license application, but the action failed to pass when no second was offered.

Still under review are several bids from business firms seeking to repair and service the village police vehicles, said Abel, chairman of the village Police Committee.

He was responding to questions from Ronnie Martin of Ronnie's Service Center.

Martin, who was among the bidders, objected to work on Pontoon Beach vehicles being handled by a Granite City business, he said.

"Why should Pontoon Beach taxpayers' money go to Granite City? Why should we support Granite City?" Martin asked.

Beefcake calendar money for charity

By Lucynn Boston
Staff affiliate

How about a little tasteful beefcake to add luster to these sub January days?

The St. Louis Centre will be featuring up several of the models from the new, all-male Munch calendar, who will be signed autographs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today (Wednesday) in the fourth floor Community Booth.

The calendar, which features a granite City man, is the creation of Panama Jax nightclub in Collinsville. All proceeds from its $5 price tag will be donated to the Fishing Well Foundation, an organization which grants wishes to chronically ill children living in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

"The idea for the calendar came from our executive director Danny Cox (no relation to the baseball player)," explained promotions director Andy Mangiaracino. "A lot of the other clubs (in the national chain) were doing strictly female calendars. We decided to use the guys and make a statement for charity while we were doing it."

Just who are these hunks who are lending their bodies to a food cause?

"We had a contest at the club. The finals were Nov. 15," explained Mangiaracino. "The winners come from all over the area and all walks of life."

Making up the list are: Rusty Gregory, Granite City; Eric Sutton, Imperial; Tim Fetter, Florissant; Doug Cusumano, St. Louis; Darius Dabski, St. Louis; Norris Roberts, Edwardsville; Harry (no last name is needed), Maryland Heights; Mike LaMar, St. Louis; Joe Cacciano, Fairview Heights; and Steve Berger, David Shively and Steve Weber, all of St. Louis.

Nothing even faintly scandalous is in the calendar, Mangiaracino said. "No one could be offended. Some of the guys have their shirts off but there isn't even anyone in a bathing suit."

Catering to the stars

The Variety Club Telethon may be two months away but V.J. Dickson is already on the hunt for Strawberry Crush soda. Dickson, a registered nurse who lives in the Central West End, is the one each year who, as a volunteer, is in charge of seeing that all the telethon stars are happy and have everything they need. And telethon star Sammy Davis Jr., it seems, has a passion for Strawberry Crush. "It's not that easy to find," said Dixon, who first got used to dealing with the whims of stars when she traveled with singer-dancer Carol Lawrence.

Other Davis desires have traditionally been Haagen-Dazs strawberry ice cream, barbecue and shopping trips to Plaza Frontenac, where he visits both Saks Fifth Avenue and Neiman-Marcus.

This year's telethon is scheduled for March 5-6 and will be broadcast over KMOV-TV, Channel 4.

Put out the welcome mat for broadcaster Chip St. James, whose well-known parents are television personalities Cliff and Nance St. James. St. James, who was reared in Webster Groves, has just returned home from six months as a radio personality on WBUS in Kankakee, Ill.

One of his reasons for heading back this way is a July wedding to Kirkwood's June (Bitsy) Weber, a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy and St. Louis University.

Art for teachers

"Munch Art?" Is it pictures drawn by those little folks who live near the Wizard of Oz or sophisticated yet depressing works by a famous German artist?

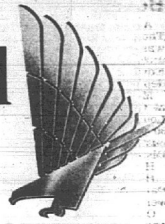

Wrong on both counts says Pam Smith, who heads the teacher and youth programs for the St. Louis Art Museum.

"Munch Art" is the title of the Jan. 26 Workshop for Teachers at the museum and will be geared to discussions of works in the museum collections that are used with food or depict food.

The course costs $12.

For further information call the museum and ask for Ext. 255 or 286 for more details.

New weatherman hired at KTVI-2; Yaros' role in question

By William Scott Simon
Staff affiliate

KTVI-TV (Channel 2) has hired weatherman Miles Muzio, who has been with KOIN-TV in Portland, Ore., since 1986. As with its recent new hires, the station has not announced his exact duties nor the times he will be on the air.

The future of Ron Yaros, the station's current weatherman, is in question. With two more weeks left on his contract, he and the station still are talking about a new working agreement.

Meanwhile, the debut of the new Channel 2 anchor team, Kevin Cokely, Tola Johnson, Stu Klitenic and Muzio, has been pushed back to Feb. 1. The station had planned on introducing the new team and new set Jan. 18.

WHO'S ON FIRST: KMOV-TV (Channel 4) and KSDK-TV (Channel 5) recently conducted a news promotion war, and the story of Jack Clark signing with the New York Yankees was at center stage. The two stations have promoted heavily what great things their news departments did to broadcast the story. To its credit, Channel 2 stayed out of the fray.

What transpired Jan. 6 was that Channel 5 broke the story at 3:45 p.m., reporting that "sources" said Clark had signed with the Yankees.

Channel 5 reported the development first, Channel 2 waited until the news was true, while Channel 4 followed with a packaged story featuring videotape from the news conference and subsequent reaction.

Let us hope this service continues.

Trojans capture Litchfield crown

By Gary King
Staff writer

LITCHFIELD — It's become a tried and true principle this season: When storms rise up against the Madison Trojans, Clarence Williams rises up to the occasion.

And when the climate turned turbulent against the Trojans on Saturday in the championship game of the Litchfield Invitational Tournament, Williams did everything shy of walking on water.

The 6-0 point guard would assist, steal, free throw and three-point his squad to a 62-53 win over the host Litchfield squad, breaking the Trojans' two-year streak of losses in the tournament finale.

The curtain was raised on the Clarence Williams Show with five minutes left in the game and the Purple Panthers clinging to a 51-48 lead.

Act I: Williams removes his warmup jacket and checks back into the game after a short breather.

Act II: A Williams three pointer. A Williams assist. Two Williams free throws. A steal and a standard three-point play by Williams. A Williams free throw. A Williams free throw.

Williams' final damage: 20 points, eight assists and five steals.

Act III: Williams, wearing a smile that would turn the head of Pepsodent representatives nationwide, graciously accepts the Tournament MVP Trophy.

"When I came back into the game, I was just thinking about winning," the star of the Clarence Williams Show said, shrugging his shoulders. "I just felt it, and I knew we were going to pull it off. We wanted to win, and I wanted to make sure we did."

As Trojan coach Rich Essington saw it, Williams was to be the Trojan offense Saturday night paint brushes were to Michelangelo.

"He was extremely proud of Clarence tonight," Essington said. "He did everything a playmaking guard should do. He controlled the tempo of the game, he ran our offense, he made the right passes. He played a good game."

"He hasn't been shooting all that well lately, but he's gotten better as he's gone along. I was glad to see him take charge those last five minutes because we were going to have the ball in his hands in those situations."

Early in the second half, it didn't appear that the Trojans would need any 11th Hour heroes.

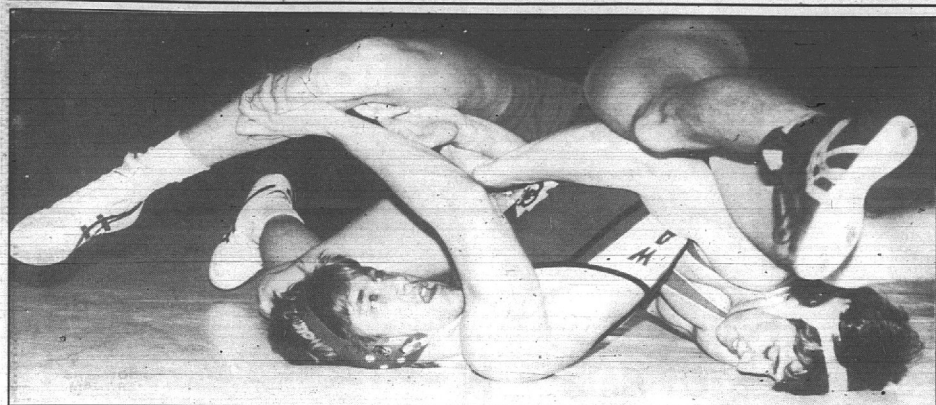

Leading 32-26 at the half, a trifecta of three-pointers from Jesse Leonard, Quincy Williams and, of course, Clarence Williams, won them a two-minute span early in the third quarter gave Madison a 43-31 lead.

But the Trojan lead dwindled as the Purple Panthers went on a 17-3 scoring binge to take the two-point lead that eventually led to Williams' trip to the awards stand. Madison's only three-point play by Trojan center Steve Sanders.

"We lost our lead and missed a couple of shots, and Litchfield really played well at that particular point of the ballgame," Essington said.

"This was one that really could've gone either way. But

Wrestlers suffer through tough weekend

On the whole, Mike Garland and the Warrior wrestling team have enjoyed better weekends — lots of better weekends.

There wasn't a heck of a lot to cheer about as Granite City lost three of four matches over the weekend, including a 31-29 loss to Francis Howell at Memorial Gym on Saturday.

In that match, the Warriors held a 29-10 edge before Francis Howell scored the last 21 points. Lance Dougherty scored a 10-6 decision over Dan Grayson at 155 pounds for three points before the Warriors suffered three straight pins — worth six points each — to drop the match by two.

George Isbell pinned Chris Hoffman at 167 pounds in 1:10; Jeff Rawson took Terry Stanley down at 3:59 in the 185-pound match; and Jeff Siler went in for the kill, dropping Dale Hutson after only 22 seconds in the heavyweight match to give Francis Howell the victory.

The Warriors, now 9-8-1 in dual matches, built up their lead on wins by Todd Hutchinson, Brent Davis, Bryan Pritchett, Scott Moss, Rich Fenoglio and Jim Stout.

Things weren't much better on Friday as the Warriors finished fourth out of four teams at a quad meet at Hazelwood Central. Wentzville won the meet with 217 points, Roxana was next with 145, Hazelwood Central had 122 and the Warriors had 116.

Granite City was crushed 56-6 by perennial Missouri power Wentzville as Fenoglio collected the only Warrior points with a forfeit win at 140 pounds. Davis suffered his first defeat of the year when he dropped a 4-0 decision to Tony Purker.

After tying Roxana earlier in the year, the Warriors lost 38-32 to the Shells in their second meet on Friday. Granite City built up a 17-3 lead with Smallie, Davis and Pritchett gaining wins. But the Shells got four pins to take over the match. Tim Cerney pinned Scott Moss, Chad Hamilton pinned Stout, Tim Melosci pinned Hoffman and Matt Avramovich pinned Larry Hahne.

Dale Hutson's 15-0 win over Steve Dewerf in the heavy weight match wasn't enough to come back.

The Warriors did come back to top Hazelwood Central 35-23 in their final match. Hoffman and Hutson had pins while Smallie, Davis, Larry Tankley, Stout, Grayson and Stanley also won.

Individual records for the Warriors through the weekend are: Hutchinson, 21-5; Smallie, 13-14; Davis, 25-1; Scott Moss, 20-7; Jerold Moss, 9-7; Pritchett, 15-9-1; Fenoglio, 17-4; Stout, 10-10; Hoffman, 9-16; Grayson, 13-14; Tankley, 4-5; Hahne, 3-8; Stanley, 15-10; Hutson, 18-7; and Scott Wilson, 5-6.

Granite City takes on Parkway West on the road Friday at 6:30 p.m. and competes in a quad meet at Saturday at 11 a.m. Collinsville and Jerseyville will also be in that meet.

Win over Wesclin pleases 2 Dale Turners

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

BELLELEVILLE — Dale Turner was such a force in the Red Devils' 74-65 win over Trenton Wesclin on Saturday that the Warriors must have felt like they were facing two Dale Turners.

In a way, they were. Turner's father, Dale Sr., was a teammate of Wesclin coach Paul Lusk at Madison High School in the 1960s. So the game had special meaning for the elder Turner. And, just like a good son should, Dale Jr. made dad happy.

Although Daryl Jackson earned game MVP honors in the second game of the Belleville Area College Class A Shootout with 25 points, it was Turner's floor game that turned the game in favor of Venice (10-2). He had 18 of his 22 points in the second half, including four three-pointers. Turner also added nine assists, several coming on flashy passes while leading the vaunted Devil fast break.

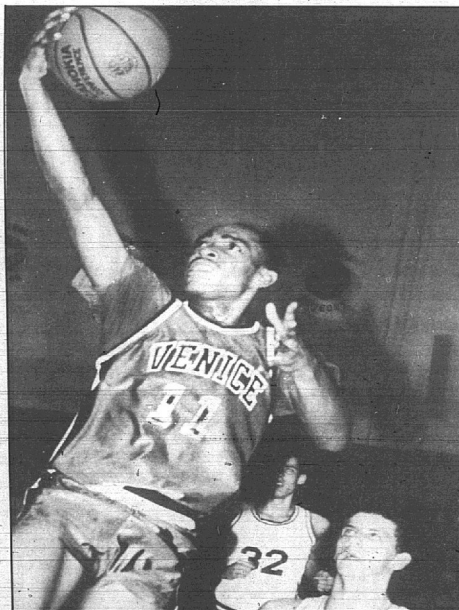

"My dad wanted this game badly," Turner said.

A crowd of more than 1,000 jammed into the BAC gym to watch the Class A double-header. It was the second of six such shootouts to be held in the next few weeks as part of a series set up by self-proclaimed "Superfans" Dennis Schickedanz of Belleville and George Wolke of Alton. Carlyle beat Woodlawn 66-57 in the first game before the Devils went to work.

The game could be a preview of a Vandalia Sectional game. Although Wesclin is only 4-7, it is the first half, came out of the top teams in the area and the Warriors are getting some injured players back. One of them, Paul Lusk Jr., the son of the coach, had 19 points to lead his team on Saturday.

But Lusk was Turner and the Red Devils who had the last laugh. Lusk drove the baseline with five rebounds left in the second quarter to give Wesclin a 28-27 halftime lead, but Turner, who made only 2 of 9 shots in the first half, came out smoking in the third quarter.

He hit three three-pointers in a row, then stole the ball and went in for a layup that Jackson rebounded to give Venice a 40-35 lead.

DALE TURNER ran the Devil offense smoothly in the win over Wesclin.

"I wasn't shooting that well early in the game," Turner said. "But our other guys can score. So I was happy to get them the ball when I wasn't shooting that good. And my passing can open up my shooting. So I got a little more room in the second half."

Wesclin took a one-point lead twice more in the third quarter, but Hosea King rebounded Jackson's miss and hit two free throws to give the Devils a 46-43 lead after three quarters.

"Hosea turned the game around for us," said Devil coach

Clinton Harris. "He got some through (12 of 15)."

It was 50-48 when a spectator suffered what appeared to be an epileptic seizure behind the scorer's table with 6:15 to play. A 15-minute delay resulted as an ambulance was summoned.

"That was unfortunate, but the delay helped us," said Harris.

"We went over some things and made some adjustments. We were in a man-to-man defense, but we were going to lose if we stayed in it. Our zone helped slow them down."

"Lusk is a great player, and

Carlos Briggs did a good job against him. I don't see how they have lost so many games.

We'll probably see them again in the sectionals if we get that far."

It was still 54-49 before Turner hit another three-pointer. Then

Turner hit Jackson with a beautiful pass through a pair of Wesclin defenders on a fast break for a slam dunk to wrap up the game.

"Jackson and Turner are just great players," the senior Lusk said. "I said going in we wanted to just keep it close, but I lie a lot. We wanted to win, but they deserved it because they outplayed us. I can't say I'm totally pleased, but we kept it respectable."

Playing in front of the big crowd and doing well was important for the Devils.

"We got pumped up for these games," Turner said.

"It was good for some of our younger players to get used to playing in front of a big crowd,"

Harris said. "When we beat Flora in the game at SIU last year

(in the first round of the Superstar), it was the turning point of our season."

We play in front of big crowds at home all the time,"

Lusk said. "So I don't think it was that important to us. But

playing in front of a big crowd

helps. You can learn more from a game like this than you can winning by 20 or 30 points."

Cook-ing

MATT COOK had another good game for the Warriors on Saturday, scoring 17 points although Granite City fell short in a 54-51 home loss to Hazelwood East. The Warriors fell to 3-12. They host Alton on Friday and play at Madison on Saturday.

Revenge sweet for Warrior skaters

As young and inexperienced as the Warrior hockey team is this year, many of them weren't on hand that fateful night last February when the Warriors were eliminated from the playoffs.

The Fox Warriors did the dirty deed on a sudden-death overtime goal, costing a good Granite City team a spot in the league semifinals at the St. Louis Arena.

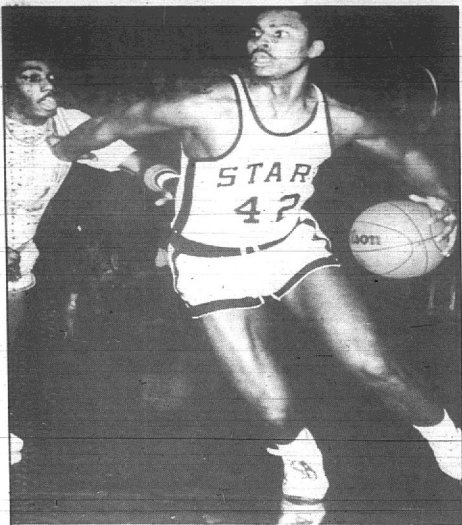

For those players left over from last year's team, Monday's 7-4 win over Fox was "a little sweet revenge," according to coach Gary Henson.

"I didn't mention last year to them before the game," Henson said. "I did mention it was our last non-conference tuneup. We finish with four conference games. This might have been our best effort of the year along with the 4-2 loss to DeSmet."

Sophomore Jim Robertson had the hat trick, giving him 21 goals for the year. Tommy Brown, Matt Krekovic, Richie Grogan and Matt Schneke added single goals as the Warriors raised their record to 9-7 overall. It was their first win in a non-North Division game all year.

The Warriors broke a 1-1 tie with three goals in the second period and led 5-2 early in the third before two quick Fox goals. But Grogan scored on assists from Robertson and Brown with 1:22 left to ice it.

Stars now 9-7

ROBBIE CARTER had 10 points, as the GCC Stars raised their record to 9-7 with a 62-48 win at Meramec on Saturday. Darwin Montana led the way with 22 points as the Stars raised their conference mark to 3-3. GCC plays Jefferson in the first round of the Mineral Area (Mo.) Tournament on Thursday.

we hung in there and played, what I thought, was one of our best games in a while. The guys really listened well and they came up with the right plays at the right times."

True, center stage belonged to Clarence Williams, but both he and Essington were quick to tip their hats to the efforts of the Trojan supporting cast — namely Quincy Williams and Sanders. Sanders scored 12 points and collected six rebounds to land a spot on the first-team All-Tournament squad, while Quincy Williams also racked up 12 points, seven steals and four assists. "Quincy Williams is probably our most consistent player, and Sanders really holds us together out there," Essington said. "He hasn't gotten a lot of publicity this year, but he's got the job done for us."

With the win, Madison raises its record to 13-3. The Trojans return to action Saturday to face the Granite City Warriors in an 8 p.m. contest at Madison.

Elks Hoops Shoot at Grigsby Jan. 30

Competition for the 16th annual free throw shooting contest for youngsters age 8 through 13, will be held at Grigsby Junior High School on Jan. 30 at 9 a.m.

More than three million youngsters from throughout the country entered last year's competition for boys and girls in age categories 8-9; 10-11; and 12-13.

Each contestant has 25 shots at the hoop. The boy and girl in each age group with the best scores advance through four tiers of competition to qualify for the national finals.

Local winners will compete against other contestants in the district events, district winners compete in state competition and state winners compete in regional competition.

THE NEW YORK SKYLINE is instantly recognizable.

Budget New York vacation for fun

By Erica Klein
and Ken Kroll
Staff affiliates

If your family likes vacations full of activity and constant action, New York makes the perfect destination.

Some prices in the Big Apple are as high as a skyscraper but not everything is ultra-expensive. With a little advance planning it is possible to stick to a budget and enjoy much of what New York has to offer.

The best news is that it no longer costs a king's ransom to stay in a centrally located New York hotel. A prince's weekly allowance, perhaps, but not a king's ransom. Increasingly interested in attracting families, moderately priced hotels like the Omni Park Central, 870 Seventh Ave., and the Novohotel, 226 W. 32nd St., entice visitors with convenient accommodations. Rooms begin at $99 a night at the Novohotel, $109 at the Omni Park.

Keep in mind that you can bring the double-room rate at most New York hotels more down to earth with a family package or a policy that lets kids stay free with parents. At the Omni Park Central, for instance, children younger than 12 years old stay free. At the Novohotel, children younger than 16 stay free.

We took advantage of the family plan at the Waldorf Astoria, 301 Park Ave., and paid $145 a night for two adults and two teen-agers. The teens loved the hushed elegance of the Waldorf, including crystal chandeliers, thick scarlet carpeting and bell-boys in starched-green uniforms. Later, for the sake of variety, we moved to the Vista Hotel, 3 World Trade Center, where a $164 room includes full breakfast and sightseeing.

There are free walking tours of the Heritage Trail and South Street Seaport, Little Italy, Chinatown and Soho. The Vista even has tickets for the Circle Line boat to Liberty Island and the World Trade Center Observation Deck.

Although we splurged on lodging, we tried to economize on food. Our strategy included eating at smaller restaurants and relying on pushcart food for the majority of lunches. New York is a street eater's paradise with choices that range from hot dogs, shish kebabs and falafel (fried chickpeas with special sesame sauce) to pretzels, Italian ices, Dove Bars, frozen yogurt and drinks of many flavors. The cost for a family of four to eat two hot dogs and drink one soda each was $9.40.

Sightseeing bargains also can be found. The three-hour Circle Line cruise around Manhattan is $12 for adults and $6 for children younger than 12. There is also a full snack bar onboard. The excursion, which departs from Pier 83 at 42nd Street and 12th Avenue, takes you past the Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building and Brooklyn Bridge.

Gray Line bus tours are $13 for adults, $9.75 for children younger than 12. The Lower Manhattan Tour, which begins at 9:15 a.m. and lasts until 1 or 2 p.m. (depending on traffic), departs from Eight Avenue at 53rd Street. Highlights include the Rockefeller Center, Empire State Building and United Nations. It also takes you through the Wall Street and South Street Seaport areas for a distant but beautiful view of the Statue of Liberty.

A walk up Fifth Avenue is the perfect finish to a New York

Crystal, art galleries add sparkle of class

Austrians have class. It's evident in the way they walk, turn palaces into hotels and make their products.

Loden green, full-length coats are smashing. Ski and sports equipment, Riedel and Lobmeyr crystal, Gmundner ceramics and Augarten porcelains are top-notch.

Shoppers hunting for antiques, especially art deco, will find 232 art dealers, galleries and the Dorotheum Auction House clustered in one Vienna district.

And those who pay dearly in the States for "bailed wool" jackets buy them there for much less, a third to half off the U.S. price. Swarovski crystal, especially the animal figurines, are sold throughout the country and at the factory outlet near Salzburg.

Firly cotton blouses, swirling drindl skirts, thick hand-knitted sweaters and caps with feathers can turn any traveler into an Austrian with style.

Perfect souvenirs are scented candles, petit point, chamis leather goods, unnamed Michaela Frey jewelry and baskets filled with dried flowers.

In Vienna, daily bidding (600,000 items sold yearly) starts at 2 p.m. at Dorotheum for jewelry, furniture, paintings, books, furs, diamonds, sport articles, cameras and much more.

Nebenhaybooks at Annagasse, 16 has original Klimt and Schiele art nouveau drawings. Old, rare Austrian prints sell for around $80. V.A. Heek at Karntnering, 14 has prints and maps dating from the 17th to the 19th century prints and maps, and they cost from $30 to $150.

Bun Tee Co. M.D., medical director of the Psychiatric Institute, will speak from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the First Floor Conference Room at Lutheran Medical Center.

Hypothermia serious threat to sr. citizens

By Bernard J. Turnock

M.D., Director, Illinois Department of Public Health

One of the more serious health problems associated with cold weather is hypothermia, a dangerous drop in internal body temperature.

Hypothermia usually develops over a period of time, anywhere from a few days to several weeks. In some cases, even mildly cold indoor temperatures of 60 or 65 degrees can trigger it.

Although people of any age can develop hypothermia, the elderly are especially susceptible. One reason is that older bodies often do not adjust to changes in temperature as quickly as younger bodies.

When internal body temperature drops to 94 or 95 degrees, the blood vessels near the skin surface narrow in an attempt to reduce the loss of body heat. Muscles begin to tighten to produce heat.

If the body temperature continues to drop, the patient will begin to shiver. The shivering will continue until the temperature drops to about 90 degrees. If it drops below that, the situation is life-threatening.

There are several signs that indicate a person may be suffering from hypothermia. The condition can deprive victims of judgment and reasoning power because the cold affects the brain. Signs to look for are:

- Forgetfulness.
- Drowsiness.
- Slurred speech.
- Change in appearance, such as a puffy face.
- Weak pulse.
- Slow heartbeat.
- Very slow, shallow breathing.

If any of these symptoms occur, take the victim's temperature. If it is 95 degrees or below, call a doctor or ambulance, or take the patient directly to a hospital.

To prevent further loss of body heat, wrap the patient in a warm blanket. You may also apply a hot water bottle or electric heating pad (on a low setting) to the patient's abdomen.

If the patient is alert, give small quantities of warm food or drink, but nothing alcoholic.

Do not give a hypothermia victim a hot shower or bath — it could cause shock.

Don't try to treat hypothermia at home. The condition should be treated in a hospital.

If you have elderly relatives, neighbors or friends who live alone, encourage them to set their thermostats at 65 or 70 degrees or higher.

If that is not practicable, urge them to dress warmly, even though they may not feel cold. And check with them, in person or by phone, once or twice a day to be certain they're not exhibiting symptoms of hypothermia.

Importance taught of wearing seat belt

GRANITE CITY — Students at Frhardt Elementary School were taught the importance of wearing seat belts by Dianne Picard and Jill Heuchert on Jan. 12.

Representing the Illinois Department of Transportation, they showed a videotape of "Rachel," a little girl who thought wearing a seat belt was "babyish."

A discussion followed on how seat belts protect passengers. It was stressed that wearing a seat belt involves following the law and being a good citizen. Suggestions were made to make seat belts more comfortable for small children.

"Buckle-up Bear" demonstrated what happens to passengers who don't wear seat belts, even on short trips at relatively slow speeds.

Cholesterol no yolk-ing matter as protein source for cooking

By Jacqueline Lankier
Registered dietitian
American Heart Association

For the last decade consumers have been cautioned to avoid eating too much dietary cholesterol to help control the levels of cholesterol in the blood. The American Heart Association dietary guidelines suggest that a person's cholesterol intake should be less than 100 milligrams per 1,000 calories, and not more than 300 milligrams per day.

Cholesterol is present only in animal products such as meat, poultry, fish and cheese. The most concentrated source of cholesterol is the egg yolk. Laboratory analyses show that one large yolk has about 270 milligrams of cholesterol. For this reason, it is recommended that no more than three egg yolks be eaten per week.

Eggs are a staple item in most diets. Other than their obvious use as a breakfast entrée, eggs play an important role in many cooked and baked items. They bind recipe ingredients, provide texture to baked goods and thicken sauces. Depending on food choices, an individual easily can consume three egg yolks per week without eating a single egg for breakfast.

From a nutritional standpoint, the egg is a rich source of protein, vitamins and minerals. All the fat and cholesterol is found solely in the egg yolk. Likewise, the yolk contains the majority of the egg's iron, zinc and folic acid, as well as vitamins A, B-12 and D. The protein and riboflavin are shared equally by the yolk and egg white.

The American Heart Association recommends discarding the egg yolks and substituting two egg whites for each whole egg. This strategy will require purchase of twice as many eggs, but it is a small price to pay for good heart health. The bonus is that the egg white is a fat-free protein source. The substitution works well in many, but not all, recipes, so experiment with favorite recipes requiring whole eggs.

Begin with recipes requiring two eggs and omit one yolk while adding one egg white. If the end-product is acceptable—and it usually is—try substituting four egg whites for the two whole eggs. If caught short on eggs, try substituting egg white plus a teaspoon of oil for each whole egg.

For more helpful tips for heart-healthy meal preparation, plan on attending the next I Love Healthy Eating seminar at the heart association, 4643 Lindell Blvd. The program from 7 to 8:30 p.m. features an informative discussion along with recipe demonstrations and samples. Make a reservation for the free seminar by calling 45-

HEART or 1-800-255-9919 from outside St. Louis.

The following recipe for crepes is almost cholesterol-free.

Crepes

1/4 cup skim milk
1/4 cup cold water
2 egg whites
1 1/2 cups sifted flour

Beat together milk, water, egg whites and flour. Cover and refrigerate 2 hours or overnight. Batter will be thin.

Brush a small iron skillet or teflon pan lightly with oil. Place over moderate heat.

Pour 2 tablespoons batter in center of preheated skillet. Tilt pan in all directions until batter covers bottom of pan. Return to heat about 1 minute. Shake pan sharply to loosen crepe. Lift edges with spatula and turn over crepe when lightly browned. Brown lightly, about 30 seconds on the other side.

If first crepe appears too thick, beat in 2 to 3 tablespoons more water. Lightly oil pan and proceed with remaining batter. Crepes may be stacked and refrigerated overnight or frozen with waxed paper between each. Yields 22 (6-inch) crepes. Each provides about 60 calories, 2.8 gm. fat, 42 mg. sodium and 2 mg. cholesterol.

Food presented

Pilot study completed in anti-drug program

GRANITE CITY — Sharon McBrien, prevention specialist with Piasa Health Care, and her two assistants, Teri Ash and Jan Denby, completed a four-session workshop with Marshall Elementary School special education pupils in Mary Osterholt's and Ron Goldsmith's classes.

These sessions were a pilot study of a new substance abuse prevention program for high-risk children.

On Nov. 16, the topic was "Feelings and Defenses," with the emphasis placed on sharing and coping with feelings. On Nov. 23, the topic was "Chemical Dependency and Alcohol Education." Discussion centered around the effects of drugs on the body and mind, peer pressure and resistance, and learning to say "no." On Nov. 30, the topic was "Risk and Choices," which dealt with decision making. On Dec. 7, the topic was "Unique and Special," a celebration of each person's uniqueness and sense of feeling special. The session closed with a poem by the class members which began, "Our class is special because..."

Two additional prevention programs are scheduled for the first grade classes at Marshall. There will be five sessions.

McBrien and her assistants will present BABES, a substance abuse prevention program for children. The purpose of BABES is to enable students to learn and practice living skills and to make positive early decisions about the use of alcohol and other drugs.

The goal of the BABES program is to help pupils formulate healthy, responsible values and attitudes related to substance abuse.

Materials used include worksheets and colorful puppets which seek to contribute to the understanding of and the response to stories.

Puppet characters who help moralize different lessons include two kittens, Buttons and Bows; a squirrel, Myth Mary; an owl, Donovan Dignity; a bird, Early Bird; a dog, Recovering Reggie; and a rabbit, Rhonda Rabbit.

Story topics include "Self Image and Feelings," "Peer Pressure and Decision Making," "Coping Skills," "Alcohol and Other Drug Information" and "Getting Help."

Marshall 6th graders learn about Coolidge

GRANITE CITY — Carol Hornbeck, a counselor at Coolidge Junior High School, presented a junior high orientation program to sixth grade students at Marshall School and their parents Jan. 7.

Hornbeck discussed junior high course requirements, course selections, two elective choices students have, and what students need to do to sign up for junior high classes.

The presentation was followed by a question and answer session.

This is the first year that parents were invited to join their children in the orientation program. About 25 parents attended.

Also there was Mike Sikora, District 9 administrative assistant for secondary education, who answered student's questions about Coolidge. He was Coolidge principal for 14 years.

Enrollment to continue decline

SPRINGFIELD — Public elementary and secondary school enrollment in Illinois declined 17 percent in the last decade, with further enrollment declines anticipated through 2000, state Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported this month.

Burris said the $2.8 billion spent on elementary and secondary education in fiscal 1987 accounted for 25 percent of the state's General Funds programs. Education spending was up 57 percent in the last decade from $1.8 billion in fiscal 1978.

Enrollment during the 1986-87 school year was 1.8 million pupils, 368,000 fewer than the 2.2 million enrolled during school year 1977-78. During the decade, private school enrollment also declined, at a slower rate.

The share of total enrollment in private schools has increased — from 14.2 percent in 1977-78 to 15.1 percent in 1986-87.

Burris said the State Board of Education projects a further decline by 89,000 students by 1999-2000, a drop of 5 percent.

The number of teachers has declined in the last decade, at a slower rate. In 1986-87 there were 104,200 public school teachers, down 5,200 or 4.8 percent from a decade earlier. Teacher-pupil ratios have dropped from 19.8 a decade ago to 17.2.

Burris said the primary reason teaching staffs have not declined more rapidly, is an increase of 3,800 in special education teachers.

General state aid to education accounts for the largest state subsidy for elementary and secondary education. At the beginning of the 1986-87 year, the guaranteed per pupil subsidy was $2,067.

According to State Board of Education figures, state sources accounted for 41.8 percent of school funding in 1986-87, compared to 44.3 percent a decade earlier.

For the Chicago Board of Education, local taxes accounted for 37.4 percent of revenues, general state aid accounted for 33.2 percent, federal aid for 13.7 percent, and other local revenues for 3.5 percent.

Suburban Chicago districts received 57.3 percent of revenues from local taxes, 20.6 percent from other local sources, 14.2 percent from general state aid, 5.7 percent from other state aid and 2.2 percent from federal aid.

Downstate, local taxes provided 43.6 percent of revenues, 30.1 percent came from general state aid, other local sources 13.5 percent, other state grants 7.9 percent and 4.9 percent federal aid.

A comparison of reported revenues to enrollments for the 1986-87 school year indicates that suburban Chicago had the greatest revenue per pupil at $4,501, followed by Chicago with $3,850 and the rest of the state at $3,210.

Students will participate in nutrition poster contest

GRANITE CITY — District 9 elementary and junior high school students will participate, on a voluntary basis, in the 1988 Nutrition Poster Contest.

"This contest is conducted through the regional superintendent's office and is sponsored by various state agencies including the Illinois Department of Health," said Rich Brinkhoff, District 9's administrative assistant for elementary education.

Prizes will be awarded in the following divisions: kindergarten, first through second grades, third through fifth grades and sixth through eighth grades, Brinkhoff said.

Deadline for submitting posters is April 1, he said.

Students donate food items

GRANITE CITY — Parkview Elementary School students donated more than 700 cans of food to the Salvation Army's Christmas basket project.

"During the three weeks preceding Christmas, students who brought canned goods to school were given a 'cafeteria cut pass' by Parkview Principal Nancy Marti. This allowed students to be first in line to eat lunch.

Kindergarten children were rewarded with candy, since they do not eat lunch at the school, Marti said.

Cub Scouts of Pack 28, sponsored by Parkview School PTA, contributed to the food drive by collecting canned goods at their November and December meetings. Additional canned goods were contributed by students who attended the monthly skating party.

Seminar planned on Australia's 200 years

Australian Consul General Terry McCarthy will conduct the seminar, discussing all aspects of life in Australia.

"This seminar is a way to share information about our library and literary networks and to increase our cultural understanding," Edgar said. "Illinois librarians, professors, or any interested individuals can take advantage of this opportunity by participating."

The free, day-long seminar, sponsored by the Illinois State Library and the Illinois Center for the Book, will take place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Parents have right to see children's school records

By Jane Cosby
Staff affiliate

If you are the parent of a school-age child, you probably will be asked to attend a parent-teacher conference sometime to receive a progress report on your child's school work. This progress report then becomes part of your child's permanent school record.

What happens if you strongly disagree with comments or conclusions made by your child's teacher? What rights do you have in connection with your child's educational records?

The National Committee for Citizens in Education recently published "Parents, Schools and the Law" ($10.95) by David Schimmel and Louis Fischer. It outlines parents' rights in schools and education. One chapter is devoted to school records.

The authors list five features of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, which is the basis of parents' rights in regards to school records.

This law applies to any school that receives federal funds. All public schools and colleges and most private colleges and universities are subject to the law.

Parochial and private elementary and secondary schools may not be covered, however.

"The most important feature of the law is that it guarantees parents the right to inspect and review the educational records of their children. Parents have the right to see any information about their child that is compiled by the school and becomes part of the child's record. Private notes by teachers or administrators that are not shared are not subject to review.

If you wish to see your child's full permanent school record, inform the principal of the school, which must make those records available to you within 45 days.

"The law also provides parents with the opportunity to challenge the accuracy of information in the records. If you believe a school record is "inaccurate or misleading or violates the privacy or other rights of the student," you may request that the school amend it, the law reads.

If you feel you have been denied your legal rights in connection with student records, write to the office at the U.S. Department of Education, Room 4512, Switzer Building, Washington, D.C. 20202. You should receive a response within 20 working days.

Workshops scheduled

Workshops on management skills needed to operate a summer food service program will be held across the state from March 3-17 by the Child Nutrition department, State Board of Education.

The workshops will be held in Carbondale March 3, Rockford March 8, Des Plaines March 9, Peoria March 15 and Springfield March 17 for eligible organizations planning to participate in the program. Various local, state and county government agencies and public or private nonprofit residential camps and schools are eligible to participate in the program, that runs from May 1-Sept. 30.

At the workshops, persons will receive instructions on administrative procedures, federal rules and regulations, and operating guidelines.

The summer feeding program is available to all persons without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age or handicap. Anyone who believes they have been discriminated against in any activity related to the Department of Agriculture may write to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Education board wants more taxes, public hearing set

A public hearing will be held today, Jan. 20, in Springfield on the proposed 1988-89 state budget for elementary and secondary schools.

The hearing by the Legislative and Finance Committee of the State Board of Education will convene at 4 p.m. in the board room of the State Board of Education's office at 100 North First St.

The recommended budget totals $2.639 billion, an increase of $413 million over the fiscal year 1988 appropriation for educational programs and services.

The budget request, based on an increase in taxes, would provide funding for reforming the general state aid formula, full state reimbursement of mandated services, and continuation of school reforms enacted by lawmakers in 1988.

Also, this budget request is part of a three-year spending plan that outlines a need for increases of $229 million and $221 million for education in fiscal years 1990 and 1991, respectively.

"Many schools are living on borrowed money and time. It is abundantly clear the vitality of this state and our schools is tied to the revenue needed to prepare for our future. The three-year plan depends on a tax increase to provide the necessary support for strengthening our schools," Education Superintendent Ted Sanders said.

The spending plan for education provides the public and lawmakers with a clear picture of what this state must do to ensure that it meets the commitment of providing educational excellence," Sanders added.

In addition to a $200 million increase to begin the reform of the general state aid formula, the FY 89 budget includes the following requests for additional funding: $61.6 million for education reforms, including pre-kindergarten programs for children at risk of academic failure and the truants/dropouts/optional education programs; $136.8 million for mandated categorical, providing full funding for programs such as special education and bilingual education; and $11.8 million for the transportation reimbursement program to parents.

At the hearing, oral testimony will be limited to five minutes. Written testimony of any length will be accepted by the Legislative and Finance Committee. For each person's testimony, 20 copies should be provided for the committee.

Also, persons unable to attend the public hearing may send their written comments to the Assistant to the State Board of Education, 100 North First St. (S-480), Springfield, Ill. 62777.

The committee will take action on the proposed budget at its Feb. 2 meeting in Chicago, with the full board acting on the budget the following day.
